PRIVACY & COLLECTION POLICY

Colours of Life Counselling ABN 90178184774 complies with the Privacy Act 1988 and the applicable Privacy Principles in the Privacy Act when handling personal information, together with the Health Records Act 2001 Victoria and the applicable Health Privacy Principles in the Health Records Act when handling personal information which is health information.

Colours of Life Counselling takes the protection of your personal information seriously. Personal information includes any information or opinion, whether true or not, about a person who is identified or whose identity can reasonably be established.

Data Collection Practices

Colours of Life Counselling collects personal information for the purposes of providing you with a counselling service. As part of this service, it is possible that the practice may need to collect information about things like how to contact you to arrange an appointment. Colours of Life Counselling may collect information via the practice Consent Forms or other company forms that you complete, via our online booking system if you use that and via administration, or through our website www.coloursoflifecounselling.com.au

The kind of personal and health information that Colours of Life Counselling may collect will depend on who you are (e.g. a client or third party service provider) and the nature of your connection with Colours of Life Counselling. This information may include things like:

- your full name
- address
- email address
- date of birth
- Medicare details
- billing information
- general appointment information and other personal information.

It is important that you are aware that failure to provide Colours of Life Counselling with all the information requested, means that Colours of Life Counselling may not be able to deliver the counselling services that you have requested.

Colours of Life Counselling collects personal information in the following ways:

Colours of Life Counselling Therapy

- from you when you make an inquiry, book an appointment, email the practice, phone the practice, engage with the practice on social media, complete documentation, in a counselling session where you request a letter or report, where you complete an assessment or make an online booking;
- from third party service providers – if you are referred through an EAP / doctor / or other third party, they usually provide us with your contact information and other information relevant to the referral;
- when we receive enquiries through www.coloursoflifecounselling.com.au
- and when the website is otherwise accessed or used;

The kind of personal information Colours of Life Counselling may collect will depend on who you are (e.g. a client or third party service provider) and the nature of your interaction with us, and may include your full name, address, email address, date of birth, Medicare details, billing information, general appointment information and other personal information. If you do not provide us with all the information requested, Colours of Life Counselling may not be able to deliver the counselling services requested.

Consent
